He then turned his eyes to the East, and in the year 1231 a navy of 100 601 strong was sent to Jayan. The fleet reached the con-ts of Habate, Kinshn, and assembled Dazaifu. But they were repulsed by the brave Japanese soldiers who rallied there from all parts of the country. They fied to their ships in confusion. The ill fortune of the battle did not stop there; but violent tempests arose during the night, and literally all the ships were wrec'ed and the crews drowned except only three who were allowed to return with a report

PREFAGE.

bringing constant reinforcements by train from Europe. If such be his plan, we shall meet it boldly and fearlessly, with equal force and strength, the patriotism, patience and endurance of our nation being such that we shall continue the war to the very end until our object is obtained. The first part of this album has already been received with favour by the public, but we venture to think that this second part will meet with even greater appreciation, for not only are the incidents portrayed of even greater interest, but the pictures in themselves are of greater merit. We believe such albums play a part in national enemy, after a bloody and terrible fight lasting several days, compelling the foe to of the great Powers, possesses a large army and in spite of all our victories still continues an obstinate resistance, apparently hoping to overcome us by sheer weight of numbers, by independence of both Korea and China. Since the outbreak of the conflict our arms on land and sea have gained victory upon victory. At Liao-yang where the Russian General Kuropatkin had concentrated his forces with the determination of withstanding our victorious armies, our generals and soldiers once again overcame the valour of the abandon Southern Manchuria and retreat to Mukden. But Russia being one of the greatest dious foe, we are fighting not only for national existence but also for the integrity and It is obvious to the world that in our struggle with Russia, our gigantic and perfieducation, and are of value not only to our own nation but also to foreigners, perate struggle of a fiend, and it is all the front to the personng hunters. So it is with the attitude of the Russians now besieged by the Japunese army. Their struggle is the desmore terrible as they are furnished with the mest powerful weapons of modern mvention Cannons of enormons size on the tops of the forts are threatening to shell to puece anything that dares to approach, but nothing can withstand the dash of the Japanese footsoldiers Into the jaw of death, into the month of It ii, they plunge and emerge like a thing of wonder Though the siege seems to have been protracted langer than we anticipated, yet the work of undernaming must have all the while been carried on, and the cry of the " Fall of Port Arthur" may at any moment burst from the top of the fur-funed Lantielset up in the sanctuary to receive offerings as we hear their foot-steps as they walk along the miya are indeed models of feminine virtues. We have been frequently told of their private conduct which is de-crying of the highest praise. The present war has given their tender hearts a strong shock, and works of charity or relief are zealously encouraged and even done by their own hands. In one corner of the spacious garden of the Takanawa Palace they have a tiny shrine which they have dedicated to those brave soldiers who have fallen witting to the present war Every soldier, not the lowe-t private excepted, has had each the honor of having his name written on a piece of wood with the Princesses' own hands and a guardian spirit. Japanese Infantry volleying,

The great er sight fought off Port Arthur on the 10th Voy resulted in the signal triumph of the Japanew navy Among the Russian ships which took independent courses after the defeat were the two, the Askold and the Grosoboi. They took refuge in the neutral Port of Shanghai the next day. The former, a magmileint critiser of great spred (23 knots) had one of her five fumeds knocked off at the top, and other is a destroyer of moderate size, but she alone cannot take offensive action. Both were thus deened hors de combat and continued to ie soughy convaled in the burbour, Our Government went a strong protest to the Chinese Court, but somehow or other the ships did not come out, not did they distrin themselves. At length (more than a fortnight attenwards) an order was received from St. Peter-burg by the communders of the ships henvelves, and they proceeded at once to several big holes hared in her hull offor the example of the Mandjur
